In business now for over a decade, we are a Silicon Alley venture that works in partnership with IBM. Our mission is to accelerate the development of high potential leaders stimulated by technology in ways that lead to jobs, raises, and promotions, simultaneous with growth in both our local and global economy. Inspired by the life story of Bill Gates, Mark Zuckerberg, and other innovators, we created a CEO platform designed to instill the skillset and mindset of a chief executive in young, top talented people age 18 to 34.

Based on peer review, our most recent publication, The Fortune 500 Most Valuable Employee, is a landmark in the Professional Training and Coaching industry. We attracted an audience of over 600 peers from the industry, 63% Founder or Partner, 25% CEO or Executive Director, 8% Business Owner, 1% Strategy and M&A professionals, and 3% others, including HR managers and television journalists.

We gained our start as a pro bono consultant advising a “red carpet” fashion designer on business recovery as part of a government-funded response to 9/11. We later emerged in post-doctorate education for attorneys in the New York City legal profession. We now also work with Harvard, MIT, and Stanford, as well as Oxford in the UK. We serve both Silicon Valley and Silicon Alley. Emerging relationships include the NBA and NFL, as well as Sony Music. Our portfolio of services includes:

1) Self-paced Introduction

An 8-hour multi-media articulation of the skillset and mindset of a chief executive available via the Internet from the comfort of home, office, or travel. Tuition is $1,500.

2) Learning Immersion

A 5-day executive certificate program featuring key skills required of a chief executive, Cross-functional Leadership and Strategic Planning, with Financial Statements powered by Predictive Analytics and Artificial Intelligence from IBM. Tuition is $7,500.

3) Fellows Program

A 3-month experiential learning program featuring Breakfast Club, Multi-touch Training, and Dinner Concert, followed by Intrapreneurial Internship with sponsoring companies and Travel Abroad in beachfront centers of tourism and commerce. Pay is $60,000 to $300,000 per year.

4) Consulting On-demand

A lifelong executive coaching program that provides insights, advice, and guidance designed to help you navigate the world and elevate and accelerate in your career. Tuition is $375 per 2-hour module.

“Sounds like you are doing really interesting and important work.”
